You slipped around, you played a game
You just couldn't be true
This broken heart beat only for one
While yours was divided by two.

I've never known a broken heart
Or what shame was all about
Until you broke the trust that I had
And filled my life with doubt.

I'm broken hearted and lonesome tonight
You've got somebody new
The love that I gave you was only for one
While yours was divided by two.

--- Instrumental ---

I've never known a broken heart
Or what shame was all about
Until you broke the trust that I had
And filled my life with doubt.

Your love alone was all that I asked
After we said I do
The vows that I made were only for one
Yours were divided by two...
