Each day I cry a little, each day I die a little
I thank the Lord for letting me go on
Each day your love grows colder
Someday you'll need my shoulder
To cry on when you're alone and blue

Even though I need your help I guess I can't go on
I'll try and find another love so I won't be alone
Each day I cry a little, each day I die a little
And when I'll go on I'll still be loving you

Even though I need your help I guess I can't go on
I'll try and find another love so I won't be alone
Each day I cry a little, each day I die a little
And when I'll go on I'll still be loving you
