We're holding on with nothin' left to hold on to.

I'm so tired of holding on to nothin'
The years have shown no kindness for the hard times we've been through We've squeezed the life from every dream and still go right on bluffin'
With really nothing left to hold on to.

Oh, why do we keep holding on with nothin' left to hold on to Let's be honest with each other that's the least that we can do
I feel guilty when they envy me and you
We're holding on with nothin' left to hold on to.

--- Instrumental ---

We were young and foolishly mistaken
Victims of a passion much too strong to be denied
With only tears to show for all the years that we've been fakin'
God only knows how long how hard we've tried.

Oh, why do we keep holding on with nothin' left to hold
on to
can do
We're holding on with nothin' left to hold on to.
