I can't help wondering
Who's holding you tight?

I went to see a movie
To try and lose my blues
But I got so lonesome
I just couldn't see it through.
(Just couldn't see it through.)

'Cause I can't help wondering
Where you are tonight
And I can't help wondering
Who's holding you tight?

I stood out on the corner
The rain was falling slow
I turned my collar up on my coat
And walked on down the road.

'Cause I can't help wondering
Where you are tonight
And I can't help wondering
Who's holding you tight?

(Who's holding you tight?...)
