So you're gone again out somewhere around me
And I can feel that heartache's bout to start
If I was smart with you I'd quit this gambling
But I guess I'm just not smart.

I can't help what people say I still love you
They don't know and they can't see what's in my heart
They keep saying if I'm smart that I will leave you
But I guess I'm just not smart.

--- Instrumental ---

Love like ours just wasn't meant for parting
For it's too deep and buried in my heart
I should have known not to have let it started
But I guess I'm just not smart.

I can't help what people say I still love you
They don't know and they can't see what's in my heart
They keep saying if I'm smart that I will leave you
But I guess I'm just not smart..
