Everybody says I always look so happy
They always tell me you're so good for me
They never seem to worry that I try to hide
'Cause I keep it covered up so they can't see.

It's funny what a little hairdye can do
It can take the years right off of you
But there's one thing that it can't take away
And that's these heartaches that haunt me night and day.

My hairdresser covers up the grey
And I paint on a good old smile to go out everyday
I've kept the hurt concealed the real me never shows
Only me and my hairdresser know.

--- Instrumental ---

Appearances can often be deceiving
And even though the truth one can hide
But underneath it all the truth is hurting
And as long as I've got make up I've got cry.

My hairdresser covers up the grey
And I paint on a good old smile to go out everyday
I've kept the hurt concealed the real me never shows
Only me and my hairdresser know.

Only me and my hairdresser know...
