You say that I was all to blame that's untrue because you know

I gave my heart and soul to you a million tears ago
But you were satisfied at least you told me so ho-ho
That was just a wedding ring ago.

I couldn't offer much to you just a promise to bring you joy
And I was much too young to see you use me like a toy Then one day a stranger came her name I did not know ho-ho
That was just a wedding ring ago.

--- Instrumental ---

She was a millionaire it was what you wanted you thought
But much too late you realized happiness could not be bought
You left her now you want me back but another's love I know ho-ho
I made him mine a wedding ring ago...
