A reason to pretend
And fake a smile
To let me pass the day
And watch the stars
Illuminate the goddamned skies tonight

As you define the smile lines
Scarred on my face
Do you remember?

Under the sun, we made a promise
To hold on to what we used to have
The memories

The days of old when everything was right
The days of old when everything was always right
The days when it only rained
When it should be
When you define the meaning of
Those eyes over rain
Do you remember?

Under the sun, we made a promise
To hold on to what we used to have
The memories

The days of old when everything was right
The days of old when everything was always right
The days when it only rained
When it should be

Colours of your heart shine even brighter
Than ever before

The seasons
Soaked with tears
