I want to thank you Lord, just to be alive, just to be alive

Chorus

When I woke up this morning
I started thinking everything was alright
It's gonna be alright
Be alright
It's gonna be alright

Now last night I was just a mess
All depressed and I couldn't rest cause now I'm full of stress
You wouldn't guess if ya seen me cause I'm looking blessed But look inside my mind you'll find it full of unhappiness
Now when ya wander in the wilderness It's even harder just to follow the Father now I must confess But see I been through the rest and I been through my test
And I been convinced that it's gonna make some sense
But nonetheless see I wonder when I'll finish this But it's your love and grace that's limitless And ya promises it makes me just hold to this It's gonna be alright when I wake up see I'm knowing this

Chorus

Now last night I was just a mess
But see this morning when I woke up yawning my stress had up and left Threw on the clothes took a shower and I'm feeling fresh Feet on the floor step out the door and I'll bounce and jet
There ain't nothing like the feeling that ya tend to get When you been through the storm and ya know it's over with
And you was holding on but now you know you over it

And now you going strong and plus you made the most of it
This is a song with a reason for composing it Cause when things go wrong you gotta just hold to this No matter what be going on see I been told of this With the break of dawn itÂ'll be alright IÂ'm knowing this

Chorus

I want to thank you Lord, just to be alive, just to be alive

Chorus
