I close my eyes at the end of another day
I think about your loving kindness and all your grace
I think about just all the times that you made a way
As I lay here with my tears on my face
I want to tell you how I feel and to just explain that I love you
And I just want to tell you thanks, as I bow my head and now as I begin to pray
It's only you and this is all I can say

Chorus

You (only you)

It is only you (it's only you)

I'm loving only you (loving only you, Lord)

Only you

With everything that I am I want to give you praise
With everything that I am I want to lift your name
With all the strength that I have I want to seek your face
Just all my days now and with all my ways
But every day I see how you're good to me
With every day I see how you're loving me
In every way this is just what I want to be More like you Lord is what I pray to be

Chorus

Only you are the one that could save my soul
And only you are the one that could make me whole
And only you are the one that I want to know
It's only you
It's only you now
And only you are the one that bled and died
And only you are the one that was crucified
But only you are the one that came back alive
It's only you
It's only you now

Chorus
