Razorblades, they cut the lines
You and I where butterflies in winter
We came of age, we came alive
We hit the dance I never stood a chance whit'ya

I know you tried heard just to work it out
But what's it's all about if it's not about staying
Alive

Are you leaving me baby, for the things that I've done
Did you think you could save me, well I came undone
Are you leaving me baby, cuz I left you no choice
You should have known better

My arrogance beat you down
I had you then but whitout a care I lost you

Consequence came around like an aeroplane in a
Hurricane I crashed you
But still you hold on till the bitter end

I wonder when and if you ever gonna let me know

Are you leaving me baby, for the things that I've done
Did you think you could save me, well I came undone
Are you leaving me baby, cuz I left you no choice
You should have known better

I must have failed you, and I know it hurts
It's a song of sorry, for what it's worth

Are you leaving me baby
Did you think you could save me

Are you leaving me baby, for the things that I've done
Did you think you could save me, well I came undone
Are you leaving me baby, cuz I left you no choice
You should have known better and then you'd stay in Love with me
