When I wake up
In the morning
I take a look and find
This circle of hope
A symbol of my desire
It makes me want to cry

Because you said to me your love was true
When I said it first
To another

When we went out last night
I told you that things were alright
Didn't you know I was lying
It's just the way that you stare
And it's the way that you fair
That make me want to groove with you

It's just my desire
That make me a liar
Oh I am such a fool

It's just my desire
It's just your desire
Now aren't we all the fools?

It's just your desire
It's just our desire
Now aren't we all the fools?
