When I'm on the road in some new town
And the night is through
I come back to my empty room,
And I start missing you
I laid back on the covers and dial the telephone
Knowing you'd be waiting there in bed for me at home

It's a long distance love affair
I can close my eyes and be with you tonight
It's a long distance love affair
When I hear your voice everything's alright, alright

You asked me how it went tonight,
Was I satisfied?
I tell you that the crowd was good
And the bets is high
I miss my little princess, a peaches when it grown Peachy asked her daddy when Mommy was coming home?

It's a long distance love affair
The things we share are more than words can say
It's a long distance love affair
Your love is here but you're so far away

It's a long distance love affair
Please keep us close,
Until I'm in your arms... again
