"Be Like Me"

I hear you speaking loud and clear
But i still can't understand
I think i'd rather kill myself
Than meet your demands

I never needed reason
To reason with my mind
I can see the future
And today is a good day to die

I need new enemies
I need new strategies
I need the pain to feel something
I need to shed some skin
To be like me
Again
A brand new me
To be like me
Again
Again
A brand new me

I read the writing on the wall
But the messages is all wrong
I got the world inside my head
And it's ticking like a bomb

I never needed justice
To justify myself
I can see the future
And it looks a lot like hell

I need new enemies
I need new strategies
I need the pain to feel something
I need to shed some skin
To be like me
Again
A brand new me
To be like me
Again
Again

A brand new me

Flip the switch
Pull the plug
I fell inside
The hole i dug

Walk the walk
Crash and burn
Another stone
I have to turn

I need new enemies
I need new strategies
I need the pain to feel something
I need to shed some skin
To be like me
Again
A brand new me
To be like me
Again
Again
A brand new me
To be like me
To be like me
To be like me
To be like me
To be like me
To be like me
To be like me
Again
