Ooo sista, sista sista
Sitting alone with a head full of empty thoughts
Playing with time that she just doesn't have Dreaming that life is a stranger that brings you flowers
Praying the dream is as real as she feels it is

Dreams can do anything
Knowing that chance could bring you to the other side
Pointing a future there
Feeling that love affair with the other side

Sista sista
Better run, better fly
Better weather(s) on the other side
Sista sista stand up tall don't you ever fall
Sista sista can't you hear my call?

Over the bridge turning right at the stop sign
There's a woman who thinks as you do
Watching the world through the glare of a TV screen
Wondering what's round the corner for you

I would give anything
Hoping that chance could bring me to the other side
Soon as my thoughts are clear
One day I'll see you there, on the other side.

Sista sista...

Calling oooo calling, call
Sista, sista, sista, sista
My Sista

Sista sista... (x2)

Can't you hear my call
Sista sista better run, better gon' fly
Better weathers on the other side
Sista sista stand up tall, don't you ever fall
Sista sista can't you hear me, hear me, hear me, won't you hear me call

Sista sista wont you run, wont you hide
There's better weathers on the other side
Sista sista stand up tall, don't you ever fall
Sista sista wont you hear me call
