I need a little time
It's never time enough
To wrap my brain around
The nuances of this joke

Break it all down
Put it all in line

It's just a simple choice
I think too much
Decision time is near
Can't get my head all clear

Break it all down
Put it in line
Trace back my thoughts
Keep them in mind
Break it all down
Look for the end
It's killing me inside
So why can't I choose

Stomach burns and weighs heavy
Frustration guilt anger envy
Make the choice bring it on
This is my creed and my song
