Started out with a simple phrase
That caused my mind to break away
From here
You seemed sincere
He just lays in his bedroom now
Empty eyes complement his empty smile
It's been a while

Forget your family
Your friends and your responsibilities
You're a liability
Everything that you said
Lies meant to pacify and calm
Exploded like time bombs

You were my friend
Once and again
Took this pain
Off my chest
Your drama king and queen
Thank you friend
You spared me

Staring at the setting sun
He regrets all he's ever done
He's got no one
He blames me for not helping out
It's easier to point at others' faults
Well here's my assault

You were my friend
Once and again
Took this pain
Off my chest
Your drama king and queen
Thank you friend
You spared me
