You waited in the dark for Someone to save you from this part
The shards of light seep in
Illuminating the mirror hide your face
The morning always brings
Disappointment and despair (you rarely recall it)
Breathe deeper now, stop staring
Into your problems before they devour

You gotta keep up the pace
You going down in disgrace
This isn't a simple escape

I am free
From everything
That haunts you
Till the bitter end
[X2]

Saturday night just isn't the time
To sit and wait to die
Surrounded by the sound of
People you just wanted to see and mention you
Put up with the shit
Take it all with heavy heart and mindless attraction
Praying to something
That maybe someone will come to save

You gotta keep up the pace
You going down in disgrace
This isn't a simple escape

I am free
From everything
That haunts you
Till the bitter end
[X2]
