Twinkle Twinkle Can't you see
Need you need you but let you go

Somebody said to me that life is a mystery
And that you never know what's out there awaiting for you Everything is meant to happen, to write
A story of life

Even when you are so alone
Even when you are so afraid with this loneliness
You'll be alright 'cuz it will lead your way

*Come on Twinkle
Why don't you clap your hands
Just open your door for the better tomorrow and
Play your own life like you're a movie star
Don't you know that we're all dreamers

Twinkle Twinkle Can't you see
Need you need but let you go

The future's in your hands and here's the map showing the way
To find yourself again, a part of you we never knew
Tell yourself it'll be alright
To give up and swallow your pride

Believe in yourself Don't be afraid
All your worries will go away because You will fight to win your life with strength to carry on

Repeat *

Suddenly the sadness took my soul
Away like a rain on perfect day
But let me go and live my life

Come on Twinkle Why don't you clap your hands

Play your own life like you're a movie star

Come on Twinkle

Why don't you clap your hands

Just open your door for the better tomorrow and

Play your own life like you're a movie star

Don't you know that we're all dreamers

And we walk out the door, dreamers
