Everyday, everyday I think of you
Everyday, everyday I think of you
And I hope, pretty mama, you think of me too

You make me weep, baby, you make me moan over you
You make me weep, you make me moan over you
You just ain't no good at all, for that's the way you do

You's a good looking woman, but you're hell down in your face
You's a good looking woman, but you're hell all down in your face
You just lay there all night long, you ain't no good to the human race

(Mickey's Solo:)
All right now, son.... Ain't no good woman, you just ain't no good... Yeah, that's what I'm talkin' about...

(Jack's Solo:)
You ain't no good at all, that's it!

I don't want you to put no sugar in my morning tea
I don't want you to put no sugar in my morning tea Stick your finger in the cup, baby, and you know that's sweet enough for me

Well I'm gonna leave here mama, I swear I can't take you
Well I'm leaving heeeeee, swear I can't take you 'Cause there's nothing now baby, a monkey woman like you can do.
