

Kon Kan

"Liberty!"

Visit "Liberty!" on MotoLyrics.com

Let me tell the story, the way it used to be You were one of a million people, I gave it to you my own liberty
Turnin' back these pages, now I clearly see How you loved me whenever you wanted, but more that that you loved to be free

There's a voice in my heart and it's callin' me back to you
But I can't go back, I must be free, break these chains in the name of Liberty!
I gave it all to you my destiny,
Oh liberty, I wish that you would take it back from me
Liberty!
I never promised you a guarantee,
Oh liberty, you'll never know how much it means to me

As I read your letters, it's there in black and white
I know you never meant to hurt me and in my heart I know that you're right
And in this age of reason, I'll try to let it be
I know anything can happen when it comes to liberty

There's a voice...

One day you'll remember, when you're no longer free
When you're tied around somebody's finger
You'll think about what you said to me...

There's a voice...

Mike Tongwarin

Visit Kon Kan page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.