It took so long to see
To learn to believe
And I know you're hurting
I know how it feels
To cut yourself from the other world
Be relieved of your strings
It's just heartbreaking
It's so mindeating

But was it worth it?
Just tell me what you think
Burn inside forevermore
You have to move on now

But remember the past
Just cherish what it taught you
Make those memories last
Let them in, let them in to haunt you

But was it worth it?
Just tell me what you think
Burn inside forevermore
You have to move on now

Just let it grow within you
Just let it inside
In time you'll know that
It was the best for you

But remember the past
Just cherish what it taught you
Just make those memories last
Let them in, let them in to haunt you
