"The Bloody Times"

I have enough
Of your Promises
Patience has run out
I wasted time
I saw the darkness
Hidden in your face
This weapon in my hands
Will show you what I want

The bloody times have come
The war song you will hear
Our swords
Will lead us into fight
The thunder from the sky
Will rumble through our hearts
And fire will light up the night

I don't need your questions
Those stupid things
Cause if you don't Feel the Pride
You'll never be my friend
I've been waiting so long
To get my revenge
Now I'm really sure
To carry on the fight
