[Lundemark]

Your body the temple
That I will possess
Dead-like but sprung into life
In your cells can live
Spell your death with a whispered word
Coming to you from another world
My form and shape
Redefined you'll be like me

Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine

I am no one
I threaten all without prejudice
My sole purpose is to eat
Your life-divine
I will not begone
Yet begun, cannot save your breath
Hold it down, then exhale
Last sifting noise, as you pale

Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
Redefined - through my veins runs life-divine
