Do you want to see the world?
Do you want to see the world?
Do you want to see the world?
In a different way

Do you want to see the world?
Do you want to see the world?
Do you want to see the world?
In a different way

I remember how we used to sing
Writing poems in your bed
Finding time to be the passenger
But there you are, you never saw me leave

But there you go, you're sailing away
And you know you never come away
Yeah, but you should never lie to me
Yeah, but I will never come away
Yeah, but you should

But do you really want to see?
Oh, do you really want to see?
Oh, do you really want see?
On your television screen

I remember how we used to be
Without the world upon our TV
Well, let it lie or you can take it back
Wrap your life around evil's trap

But there you go, you're sailing away
But there you are
And you know you never come away

Yeah, but you should never lie to me
Yeah, but I will never come away
Yeah, but you should

Well, do you want to see the world?
(What, what?)
Do you want to see the world?

(What, what?)

Well, do you want to see the what?

(What, what?)

Well do you want to see the world?

(What, what, what?)

Well, do you want to see the world? I know I do

(What, what, what?)

Do you want to see the world? I know I do

(What, what, what?)

Well, do you really want to what, what?

I know I do

Well, do you really want to what, what?

I know I do

Well, do you really want to see?

I know I do, I know I do, I know I do
