burn down to the ground everything i own everything u need is temporary and everything u want is so petty materialistic shit makes me sick you jewel your car your house your mind its just for now does it sound funny your wife your kids your family and life its just for now its just not right open your eyes and youll see the light stop living in a fairytale life theres more to life then just living find it in your self and start giving itll come back to ya noones out to steal
i lost everything i had im not even mad loosen everyone i love would make me sad if u blow on the past it just aint gonna last you will not take my mind you will not take whats mine you think you can hang me by stealing from me
ohhh y
you think i owe it to you
this is everything i do
you cant break me take from me
but you aint got me
pain and misfortune its pure fucking hell take it awayyy
nothing will change i will still feel the same this is too much pain am i being tortured time will only tell am i insain or am i in hell gotta have faith not some of this torture live your own life no reason to rebel all of this hatred has to be hell feeling down on yourself try living my life more money more problems that aint no lie
if you take it all away id rather scrape by day by day one day at a time it doesnt really pay it takes a man to cry your not alone like the tear from your eye life is a gift you should put it on a throne im materialistic shit i appreciate your life

i cant wait to die
if it was up to me i wouldnt be alive not suicide but ive had a rough life drugs will make it numb but they wont cure your pain look at the bright side im tryin to stay sane i would never take my life over depression and pain thats just part of life life is just a test treat it with respect your here for a reason not to be depressed
