hide inside my head
i cant stand all the things they said, made me crazy born into hate never to appreciate me or you or things i should do was i ever innocent

little boy lost inside his self dont know where i can hide
but inside
who will free me?

take it all away
blinded from another day sparks fly in my closed eyes as i hide from the demons inside where will i run tomorrow? will i soon have footsteps to follow?
can you tell me where is my soul?
guess thats the devils toll

little boy lost inside his self
but inside
who will free me?

you dont know who i am you dont know where ive been so dont act like you do cause you dont ever want to know the truth
