Don't loose your head
Another damage has been done
I know that I wasn't the wrong
I should have told you

What can I say?
Has probably been said
You probably wish that I was dead
And I don't blame you

You won't believe me, but ok
It wasn't meant to be this way
But at the end of the day
I still love you

I won't go waste or dry your eyes
Can I just apologize?
I know I hurt you
I didn't mean to

Look at the damage we've have done
Look at the damage
I thought you were the one
Look at the damage
Look at the damage we've have done
Broken dreams and shattered love
What can we salvage?
Look at the damage

(Damage)
(Look at the damage)
(Damage)

To tell the truth
This didn't happen all 'bout a night
Just like we lost the will to fight
About a year ago

Just got to familiar
And started living separate lives
We wanted different things

And didn't communicate

'Till it was too late
You drifted further from my mind
It was so easily untight
It's unbelievable

Don't be unkind, you'll come undone
You still worth try, let turn you on
To go ahead,
Find someone who really needs you

Look at the damage we've have done
Look at the damage
I thought you were the one
Look at the damage
Look at the damage we've have done
Broken dreams and shattered love
What can we salvage?
Look at the damage

(Look at the damage) [2x]
(Damage) [5x]
(Look at the damage)
(Damage)
(Look at the damage)
(Damage)
(Look at the damage)
(Damage)
