At the turn of the century
It was you and me making history, baby
Always thought it was meant to be
We were humanly emotionally connected
I could have put it down to experience
I wish I put you down easy

My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes
My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes

I collected my dignity
Put my mind at ease

I've burned your pictures and your memory
Put back all of the pieces of me
So hard to see wearing rose tinted glasses
I should have put you down to experience
I wish I'd put you down easy

My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes
My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes

When all is said and done[break]We're sitting' in the sun[break]
Take life by the hand
Tout le monde, tres content

Say I let you go
To be beautiful alone

And though I forget your smile
I remember those eyes
Those eyes

When all is said and done
We're sitting in the sun

We take life by the hand
Tout le monde, tres content

Say I let you go
To be beautiful alone

And though I forget your smile
I remember those eyes, those eyes

My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes
My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes

My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes
My blue eyed boy
(I should have put you down easy)
My blue eyes
