Don't lose your head
I know the damage has been done
I know that I was In the wrong
I should have told you

What can I say?
Has probably been said
You probably wish that I was dead
And I don't blame you

You won't believe me but ok
It wasn't meant to be this way
But at the end of the day
I still love you

I will walk away so dry your eyes
Can I just apologize?
I know I hurt you
I didn't mean to

Look at the damage we have done
Look at the damage
I thought you were the one
Look at the damage

Look at the damage we have done
Broken dreams and shattered love
What can we salvage?
Look at the damage

Damage
Look at the damage
Damage

To tell the truth
This didn't happen overnight
Just like we lost the will to fight
About a year ago
Just got too familiar
And started living separate lives

We were wanting different things

And didn't communicate
Till it was too late
You drifted further from my mind
It was so easily untied
It's unbelievable

Don't be unkind, you'll come undone
You're still a child at 21
So go ahead
Find someone who really needs you

Look at the damage we have done
Look at the damage
I thought you were the one
Look at the damage
Look at the damage we have done
Broken dreams and shattered love
What can we salvage?
Look at the damage

Look at the damage
Look at the damage
Damage
Damage
Damage
Damage
Damage
Look at the damage
Damage
Look at the damage
Look at the damage
Look at the damage
Look at the damage
Look at the damage
Look at the damage
Look at the damage
