Open up never let it close again
Give it up never let it rise again
Take a foot step in my step
And your step the next step
And make it mine again

I walk straight into this affair
I'm looking for this accidental love
I walked face first into a storm

You think you know
I don't know I just guess
And you think you can lead
I don't tell I suggest
Make your call, the right call
Remember you're never second best

I walk straight into this affair
I'm looking for this accidental love
I walked face first into a storm
It's going to be the sun
I walked face first into a storm
I'm looking for this accidental love
Yeah it's going to be the sun
It's going to be the sun.
