Here we go again, life just went insane,
Can you just take it easy and stop to complain?
I try to do my best, I got no time to rest
But you can't get enough, so give me a break.

Now please look at my face, and listen to what I say,
We both must understand, that we're coming to an end.

You're always bitter, your days are so dark,
I show you my smile, you turn off the lights,
It's not working, we walk different ways.
I waste saliva, I lose my mind,
Your negativity just makes me tired,
It's not working, we walk different ways.
