Was it a vision or was it a dream
The trust of the mankind has never been real
Gods of pleasure, Gods of pain
Gods of terror, of life and of hate

Mortality is endless when Gods start to pray
Life becomes worthless by nuclear death
They're watching from above, it could happen every day
Watching their terror and care in no way

Time is important to life and to death
[Incomprehensible]

See their eyes filled with lies
Watch the slaughter endless night
Can make your scream, can make you cry
You know you're helpless till the end of time
Awakening of the Gods

Burning ambitions, your lusts and your wills
Your plans of life, goals and your thrills
Days of laughter, days of crime
Your living to your fate on foretold time

Nothin' has worth, nothing is real
Nothing is important, no way you feel
This can't be the only life
It could begin when you die

No one can imagine where you will be
Where you have been before your birth you will see Watched and controlled is your life in every way
Planned and controlled is your fate every day

See their eyes filled with lies
Watch the slaughter endless night
Can make your scream, can make you cry
You know you're helpless till the end of time
Awakening of the Gods

Manipulated by human feelings

Walking through this life
Searching for the meaning of all
But that's something you will never find

Accept all what happens to you
Be prepared for torture and pain
Not something you can do
Only your death will reign

You've seen the good sides, you've also seen the bad
Damned to mortality, damned is your life for death
Created for a mystery, why is this your fate
Only the future will show or maybe you'll never know

Was it a vision or was it a dream
The trust of the mankind has never been real
Gods of pleasure, Gods of pain
Gods of terror of life and of hate

Mortality is endless when Gods start to pray
Life becomes worthless by nuclear death
They're watching from above it could happen every day
Watching their terror and care in no way

Time is important to life and to death
[Incomprehensible]

See their eyes filled with lies
Watch the slaughter endless night
Can make your scream, can make you cry
You know you're helpless till the end of time
