"Don't Trust"

The only truth I've heard
Is the truth that I've spoken myself A pack of lies is all I get from anybody else
Experience shows me I'm right
Deceit is the only game in sight
So be careful what you choose to believe
You can't believe in nothing
Insane to trust in anything
So I don't trust in no one but myself
What happened to your honesty
Did it take a back seat to your greed Forgotten cause you've found out you need to live a lie
And if you question why you have a future without security

Just fear and lies and terror
No one can tell you why Synthetic creatures ordered and numbered Unsympathetic to everyone
Death of intelligence and emotions
Preordained from death to day one Lost trust in the future
Lost faith in prophecies
Lost truth in government promises
Lost hope for honesty
