He came from the east with weapons
Full of blood from newborn children
Now he's here in your town to kill you, die at once
Until today, you've lived your life without any sorrow
At home you've got your child and wife
But what will come tomorrow

Await the death by the blade
Run before it's too late
Await the axe in your back
As the ripping corpse attack!

You begin to sweat, you begin to cry
As you watch this scene
At first you see your children die
You wish it was a dream

He eats the heart of your wife
And rips her cunt inside
You know now it's your turn
The others have already died

Await the death by the blade
Run before it's too late
Await the axe in your back
As the ripping corpse attack!

Now he's close to you
His eyes are cold and cruel
Fear is in your heart
His might will rip you apart

Eternal horror, eternal horror
Eternal wickedness, eternal death
Life taking blood rain never ending death-pain
No one will care when you die!

He came from the east with weapons
Full of blood from newborn children
Now he's here in your town to kill you, die at once
Until today you've lived your life without any sorrow
At home you've got your child and wife

But what will come tomorrow?

Await the death by the blade

Run before it's too late

Await the axe in your back

As the ripping corpse attack!
