"Some Pain Will Last"

Intence devastation of nature
Constructing a future for man
The world is sold dirt cheap
For promises no one can ever keep There's no hope, just decay
Creation leads only to chaos
The very first years of your life
Mother makes things right
But soon you just cannot deny
This is only a lie
We live in a world of hate and deceit corruption and greed
Just wait my friend, you will see Misery's coming your way, horror and pain reserved for you
Some pain will last, last forever
Eternal slaves of morbid minds
Helpless and blind
Dealers of heartless oppression
Controlling mankind

Resistance is quelled, its birth incomplete, no chance to succeed
And those, those who don't care if you life or die
Are never around to shoulder the blame
Some pain will last, last forever
Time, the time flies fast you will feel Still a child yet tomorrow you'll be A man full of hopes and of dreams Prepare, prepare for some pain yet unknown
Planned and arranged for so long
Chemical mutants arise
A generation born just to die
Born just to die, a whole generation born just to die!
