I was just hanging around thinking 'bout nothing at all trying so hard to forget that even brighter days are so sad since you left

There are enough people to see look everyone's staring at me but nothing can make me forget that even brighter days are so sad since you left

But if nothing's gonna change to me these brighter days feel grey and if I don't rearrange all days are gonna be the same

Somebody opened the door cause I don't feel blue anymore we're trying so hard to forget that even brighter days are so sad since you left

something's making it harder just to be without you something's making it impossible to be without you, sleep without you, eat without you, breathe without you here so do you wanna be with me tonight too

and if I don't rearrange all days are gonna be the same

No, if nothing's gonna change
to me these brighter days feel grey

Cause even brighter days are so sad, since you left
