HEY THERE LOVE

i dont know what your dreaming of dont know what your thinking of well i'll tell you mine dont act tough
see, i have had enough i wont spell it out my love you should see the sign cos every minute feels like forever but time used to be on our side

as i look at the life
look at the life that we're living and all that you've given i thought you said so desperately, trying to see why i love you.
im so tired of you.
im calling for help
for somebody else (for somebody else), yeah

all my love
i know it would break your heart if i made a brand new start, leave you behind..

well don't be scared you'll be back on your feet again you'll feel so much better when i'm out of your life now don't say you love me don't say you need me i dont think we know what that means look at the life

& all that you've given i thought you said so desperately trying to see why i love you
im so tired of you

for somebody else

i love the way we used to be were so in love its time to set us free

goodbye my love
goodbye my love
please don't disagree

the life that we're living
