Hey there love

I don't know what you're dreaming off

Don't know what you're thinking off

Or what's on your mind

Don't act tough see I have had enough

I won't spell it out my love

You should see the signs

'Cause every minute feels like forever

While time used to be on our side

As I look at the life, look at the live that we're living

And all that you've given, up on yourself

Desperately trying to see why I love you,

I'm so tired of you, I'm calling for help

For somebody else, somebody else.

Oh my love I know that it would break your heart

If I'd make a brand new start

Leave you behind

Don't be scared, You'll be back on your feet again

You'll feel so much better when i'm out your life

Don't say you love me

Don't say you need me

I don't think we know what that means

Chorus

As I look at the life, look at the live that we're living

And all that you've given, up on yourself

Desperately trying to see why I love you,

I'm so tired of you, I'm calling for help

For somebody else.

I know we used to be

So in love

It's time to set us free

Goodbye my love, goodbye my love

Oh please don't disagree

Chorus 2x

As I look at the life, look at the live that we're living
And all that you've given, up on yourself
Desperately trying to see why I love you,
I'm so tired of you, I'm calling for help

For somebody else, somebody else.
