My head was dreaming when I saw you falling down
I did not see that you were suffering so much
But the things you said
Were more than just a sentimental dream
You were my Queen, you were.
And it hits me like a rock
You're gone you're gone
You're gone out of my dreams
It hurts, it's true
You weren't what it seemed
And it goes around that you always did
You weren't what it seemed
I've always seen you like a saving angel Someone who knows everything and has been everywhere
But the things you said
Were more than just a sentimental dream
You were my Queen, you were,
And it hits me like a rock
You're gone...
