my head was dreaming when i saw you falling down i did not see that you were suffering so much but the things you said weren't more than just a sentimental dream
you were my queen, you were, and it hits me like a rock you're gone, you're gone, you're gone out of my dreams

it hurts, it's true, you weren't what it seemed and it goes around that you always did, you weren't what it seemed and if you meant it then, i don't know, but you were not who i thought you would be that you would be i've always seen you like a saving angel someone who knows everything or has been everywhere

but the things you said weren't more than just a
sentimental dream

what it seemed (you're gone, you're gone, you're gone out of my dreams)
who i thought that you would be (it hurts, it's true) you would be
you would be
you would be
