Oh river wide, older than time
Hold us inside, don't go dry
Dreamed, swam with you, ancient and new
Woke up and knew it was true

River's deep, the river's long and wide
No one ever reach the other side

Take off your skin, no more pretend
World without end, without end

Let that water wash away your name
In that water everyone the same
River's deep, the river's long and wide
No one ever reach the other side

Oh river wide, older than time
Hold us inside, don't go dry
Don't go dry
