Hey doesn't it still look easy as it did to you hey wasn't it true after all I couldn't help myself girl and I can't blame you
The bigger the fool the harder the fall Livin' on old illusions and some make believe that mattered to me most of all Closin' my eyes to changes I've refused to see the bigger the fool the harder the fall Somewhere in your future on the far side of your world
You might read my writing on the wall Think of the easy dreamer who believes in you the bigger the fool the harder the fall [guitar]
If somebody you wake up in a world that's turned on you
And nobody answers when you call Hey think of the crazy dreamer who believes in you
The bigger the fool the harder the fall
Think of the easy dreamer who believes in you the
bigger the fool the harder the fall
