I see you in the mornn' with the spirit in the sky
The breeze is full of freedom and the eagle i your eye
And the aura of an angel come to show me how to fly
Where the mess don't matter anymore And I see you in the darkness with the moonlight on your face
The breeze is full of flowers and the shadows soft as lace
And I feel the way our faces come together into space
Where the heart has never been before Chorus:
Holy woman, I will build a shinin' monument to you, wait and see
I'm only human, can you fill the holy emptiness in me
I see you in the glory of your passion blazin' bright And God almighty stillness of the stars that fill the night
'cause you held me in the darkness and you led me to the light
Turned the key and opened me a door
Chorus:
Holy woman, I will build a shinin' monument to you, wait
and see
I'm only human, can you fill the holy emptiness in me
