Looky here, who's in focus now
Hard and clear to the bone
No more fears that you'd notice now
Like a tear cast in stone

And she comes from a spring to a fountain
On the wings of her song
She's the king of the mountain
She's so good, Lord, and she's gone

'Cause she's a star, see her shining
She'll go far, for a price
But she's hard in the heart like a diamond
Flashin' fire, cold as ice

She's a star, see her shining
She'll go far, for a price
Flashin' fire, cold as ice

She's a star
