i just wanted a ride
i just want you to know i got nothing to hide
i got nowhere to go

and the hunger is hard
as a promise to keep
and the night's are so long and the silence so deep

there's a piece of my mind the world can't erase
i remember the time
and the look on your face and i will tell the wind

blow the stars from the sky
the road never ends
the soul never dies

be who you are
just as long as you can know in your heart
i'm still your man

headin' for home
starlight and stone
