My world is spinning, i'm seeing circles and curves i used to live on the edge i think i'm losing my nerve hey buddy, don't flip on me, don't lay your trip on me i never wanted to know i laid down for you, i played the clown for you and now you won't let me go it's hard to find a place in a world where nothing's safe it's a cruel place i should know and it's getting hard to keep it in i have to let it go my sky is empty until a grey cloud appears i catch the drops of it's rain tastes just like my own tears he buddy, don't mess with my head, go fix your own instead i never wanted you near i bought into all your pain, it left me half insane and only one thing is clear and i can't fight it anymore it's not my job to win this war i don't even know what i'm fighting for
