how can i sit and watch let a good thing ride away suddenly all is lost
as i search for words to say but all that comes are a million tears one for every time i should have told you fear burns hard and slow we've got a long hard row to sow seeds of a lifetime, truth and forgiveness growing like a grapevine, like nobody's business bitter tears we have cried but they never change a thing suddenly time gets lost how we spend it now means everything
fear burns hard and slow
we've got a long hard row to sow
seeds of a lifetime
courage and devotion
growing like a grapevine, sweet like emotion

we've got a long hard row to sow
seeds of a lifetime
and let a good thing ride away
seeds of lifetime, truth and forgiveness growing like a grapevine, like nobody's business courage and devotion, growing like a grapevine sweet like emotion, seeds of a lifetime.
