He leaves suspiciously
As panic enters
Geography for beginners
Barter for the rest of your life

Feeling wasted comes in waves
Orient harder
Bend your molten face
To smile at a stranger

How much for a life you don't despise?

Tons and a shining silver sun
Don't you wish you hadn't gone
I am starting to sometimes
I wish you were here

Only sweetness that's all
To shake off the bitter
So I make you toothless well
Live on water
Water for a thirst you can't fight

Precious stones and precious bodies
Have you been savaged by love bites
How much for a life you don't despise

Tons and a shining silver sun
Don't you wish you hadn't gone
I am starting to sometimes
I wish you were here

Long underrated silver sun
Don't you wish we hadn't gone
We were starting to see a beautiful mirror
