the sun was beating down inside the walls of stone and razor wire as we made our way accross the prison yard i felt my heart begin to race as we drew nearer to the place where they say that death is waiting in the dark the slamming doors of iron echoed through the halls where despair holds life within it's cruel claws but then i met a man who's face seemed so strangely out of place a blinding light of hope was shining in his eyes and with repentance in his voice he told me of his tragic choice that led him to this place where he must pay the price but then his voice grew strong as he began to tell about the one he said had rescued him from hell, he said... i'm free, yeah, yeah, oh, i have been forgiven God's love has taken off my chains and given me these wings and i'm free, yeah, yeah, and the freedom i've been given is something that not evevn death can take away from me because i'm free Jesus set me free we said a prayer and said goodbye and tears began to fill my eyes as i stepped back out into the blinding sun and even as i drove away i found that i could not escape the way he spoke of what the grace of God had done i thought about how sin had sentenced us to die and how God gave his only Son so you and i could say... and if the Son has set you free, oh, if the Son has set you free, then you are free indeed, if the Son has set you free,
then you are free, realy, realy free oh, we're free, yeh, oh, we have been forgiven

God's grace has broken every chain and given us these wings and we're free, yeah, yeah, and the freedom we've been given is something that not even death can take from you and me because we're free, yeah, the freedom we've been given
and me
because we are free, oh we're free we are free, we are free the Son has set us free
you are free indeed
